Hamas political bureau leader Khaled Meshaal met on Monday with the head of Egyptian intelligence Omar Suleiman to give an answer to Egypt's written proposals on Palestinian division

Meshaal arrived in Cairo on Sunday evening at the head of a delegation for a two-day visit to discuss the response to the Egyptian initiative to end the Palestinian rift.

Hamas official sources said that they will give a positive response to the proposals to help pave the way for the start of a national dialogue and reach an agreement on the postponement of the legislative and presidential elections.
