

Foreign parties participate Egypt NDP conference

Contributed by Egypt News
Thursday, 29 October 2009

Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak

60 representatives of 19 countries from all continents participate in the sixth annual conference of the Egyptian National Democratic Party (NDP), which begins on Friday and lasts until Monday, November 2

Some of participated Arab countries are Palestine, Sudan, Tunisia, Algeria, Morocco, and Yemen.

African countries involved are Nigeria, Ghana, and Tanzania.

European countries are Italy, Germany, France, Belgium, and Cyprus.

North and South America involved 3 countries namely, Canada and the United States and Brazil.

From Asia continent involved two States, China and India.

The Delegation of China is the largest delegations in terms of numbers where the group of 20 high-level party leaders of the Communist Party of China, it is within the framework of close cooperative ties linking the two sides, the mutual visits by leaders of both parties.

The following is the Sudanese delegation, which consists of 12 participants representing the National Conference and the nation of Sudan Parties

The participants are representing high-level personalities in positions partisan and parliamentary and government .. As from Sudan Ali Nafie, Assistant of the President and Vice-President and the Vice-president of National conference party for political and regulatory affairs and Sadiq al-Mahdi of the Umma Party President and former Prime Minister of Sudan.

Tunisia is participating Abdel Hadi Monsef Assistant Secretary-General's ruling Democratic Constitutional Tagamoo

Also attending the conference a number of experts in research and academic centers, and members of the European, and Canadian, and Brazil, and Ghana, and Tanzania Parliament.

EGYPT NEWS